

Student emergency listserv sign-up and account information web sites...

1. The URL for the Student Emergency Notification Listserv sign-up page is...
<http://academic-computing.uams.edu/utilities/subscribe.aspx>

If you are embedding a link to this page in another web page it is recommended that you include the target="new" tag to force the sign-up page to open in a new browser window. Example HTML code...

```

Emergency Notification Sign-up
```

2. The URL for the authentication page of the web site on which student's (all students, not just new students) can review their individual information about UAMS network, email, and Blackboard accounts is...
<https://academic-computing.uams.edu/viewinfo/index.aspx>

You can see the login page below but if go to the web page and try to log on you will be unsuccessful (unless you are a current UAMS student). The web site only provides information for UAMS students.

A sample of the information provided to a student (a fictitious student) is available on the ACAC SharePoint site (<http://sharepoint.uams.edu/sites/AcademicComputing/ACAC/default.aspx>). Look in the "Student Email and Emergency Notification Resources" folder for the document named " student acct information web site pages".

UAMS Network, Email and Blackboard Information for UAMS Students

This web site provides information for UAMS students about how to log onto the UAMS network, email, and Blackboard online learning services. It also provides an overview of policies related to use of those services.

To retrieve your account information you must enter your UAMS network username and password. If you are a new student you should have received your network account username and password during the registration or orientation process. If you do not know your username or password contact the Technical Support Center at 686-8555.
