Student Financial Aid

Eligibility Criteria

All students enrolled in the College of Medicine at UAMS are eligible to apply for financial aid. To qualify for financial aid and maintain eligibility for assistance, a student must:

• be a U.S. citizen or an eligible non-citizen,
• be enrolled in good standing at least half time,
• demonstrate financial need, as determined by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid,
• not be in default on any federal educational loan,
• not owe a refund on any federal grant,
• be registered for the draft with the Selective Service System if the student is a male between the ages of 18 and 25,
• certify that eligibility for student financial aid has not been suspended by a court as a result of a conviction for a state or federal offense involving a controlled substance,
• have a Social Security Number and
• maintain satisfactory academic progress.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Federal regulations require a student to maintain satisfactory academic progress in the course of study he/she is pursuing, according to the standards and practices of the institution, in order to be eligible to receive financial aid. Candidates for the Doctor of Medicine degree from the College of Medicine must complete the course of study prescribed by the faculty for this degree. Academic evaluations for each course, clerkship or elective are based upon the achievement of the course objectives. Students must successfully complete all of the educational objectives each year before proceeding to the next year or graduating. To progress satisfactorily and to receive a degree, a student must possess the personal qualifications and attributes that are necessary to engage in the practice of medicine. Determination of satisfactory academic progress is made by the Promotions Committee of the College of Medicine. The Promotions Committee reviews the progress of each student on at least an annual basis, generally at the end of each academic year. Continued enrollment as a full time student, including enrollment for remedial work, completion and/or repeat of one or more courses, implies that the Promotions Committee believes that the student is making satisfactory academic progress for financial aid eligibility. Therefore, it is the policy of the Student Financial Aid office to regard continued enrollment as an indication that the student is making satisfactory academic progress towards the degree of Doctor of Medicine. The institution’s policy on satisfactory academic progress is discussed in detail in the College of Medicine Student Handbook.

Applying for Financial Aid

Students who wish to apply for financial aid are strongly advised to do so at least four months before the first day of classes to insure that any financial aid needed to pay for tuition, fees, books, health insurance, etc., can be made available by the date of registration when payment is due. Students who do not apply for financial aid before registration, or who do not request the maximum in loans before registration, may apply for financial aid at any time throughout the academic year, from registration through March each year. Scholarships, however, must be applied for in advance. The deadline to apply for any institutional scholarship is April 15 for the following academic year. More information on applying for financial aid, including all necessary application forms, can be found on the College of Medicine Financial Aid website at www.uams.edu/com/fin-aid.
Financial Need

Though not all financial aid programs offered by the College of Medicine are based on financial need, the programs that are based on need are more beneficial to the student in the long term and must be awarded first. Therefore, with the exception of merit based scholarships, financial need must be determined for all students who wish to apply for student financial aid. The United States Department of Education will make the determination of financial need for each student once the student files the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The student's financial, educational and demographic information reported on the FAFSA are used in a formula established by Congress to calculate the student's Expected Family Contribution (EFC)— the amount the student is expected to contribute to his or her educational costs for the academic year. A student's Expected Family Contribution might not equal the amount the student actually ends up contributing because the Expected Family Contribution may be replaced by financial aid that is not based on need. Students are advised to file their FAFSA online at www.fafsa.ed.gov by April 15 each year for the following academic year. After submitting the FAFSA, it is each student's responsibility to complete the appropriate application for loans and/or scholarships.

The Department of Education will select a percentage of all FAFSA applications for verification. Students selected for verification must submit additional documentation, such as a signed copy of their federal income tax return and W-2s, to the Financial Aid Office to verify the accuracy of information submitted on their FAFSA. Students will be notified if their application is selected for verification. The verification process must be complete before financial aid can be disbursed.

Cost of Attendance for 2010-2011

Estimated expenses for the 2010-2011 academic year are summarized on the following chart to assist students in developing a budget for the ensuing year. The Cost of Attendance (COA) reflects the maximum amount of financial aid a student can receive, regardless of the source (loans, scholarships or grants), for the academic year. Federal law mandates that the cost of attendance reflect only those costs which are directly related to obtaining an education. More specifically, the student's estimated cost of attendance shall not exceed the estimated cost of attendance of all students in like circumstances pursuing a similar curriculum at the same institution. The law allows the cost of attendance to include the costs of tuition, fees, books, required equipment and reasonable costs for food, housing, transportation and miscellaneous living expenses directly related to obtaining a medical education. Students receiving financial aid will be required to live within the budget listed for the appropriate academic year. Students are cautioned to plan a monthly budget, seriously consider their finances and make some important decisions with regard to life style choices, priorities, etc., before entering medical school.

The estimated amount of tuition for the 2010-2011 academic year (at the time of this printing) for residents of the state of Arkansas will be $17,980 and 35,960 for non-residents. Students are required to be covered by hospitalization-surgical medical health insurance through a group plan sponsored by the Associated Student Government Organization or present evidence of other coverage at the time of registration. Annual rates for the group plan may range depending upon the optional coverage and deductible amount selected by the student.
Estimated Cost of Attendance: 2010-2011

*The University reserves the right to change the schedule of tuition, fees and other fixed costs as necessary. Every effort will be made to provide advance notice of any changes. Updates will be posted on our website at www.uams.edu/com/fin-aid. All students are required to show proof of medical insurance coverage or pay the cost of the school’s approved policy at registration. The University also reserves the right to perform a criminal background check on all applicants accepted for admission.

TUITION PAYMENTS: Tuition may be paid in two installments, the first half at registration and the second half at the mid-point of the academic year (no later than January 15). Students who fail to pay tuition by the established due dates will be placed on an administrative leave of absence and will not receive credit for any classes attended until tuition is paid. The Treasurer's Office will not send tuition due notices for payment of the second installment of tuition. It is the student's responsibility to pay the second installment of tuition by January 15 of each academic year.

WAIVER OF NON-RESIDENT TUITION FOR NATIVE AMERICANS/UA BOARD POLICY 520.1: Native American people in other states belonging to tribes which formerly lived in Arkansas before relocation, and whose names are on the rolls in tribal headquarters, shall be classified as in-state students of Arkansas for tuition and fee purposes on all campuses of the University of Arkansas. Tribes so identified include the Caddo, Cherokee, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Creek, Delaware, Kickapoo, Osage, Quapaw, Shawnee, Tunica and Peoria. (Revised April 9, 1999)

Non-Arkansas resident Native Americans accepted for admission to the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences College of Medicine who wish to request a waiver of non-resident tuition must contact the UAMS Office of the Vice Chancellor at least 60 days before the beginning date of classes and submit the necessary documentation to determine the student meets UA Board Policy 520.1.

Leave of Absence and Withdrawal

Ceasing enrollment may have a serious impact on a student's financial aid. Any student considering withdrawing or requesting a leave of absence should consult with the Financial Aid Office to determine how their financial aid will be affected. Schools may neither credit a student's tuition account nor deliver loan proceeds to the student borrower while the student is on an approved leave of absence or after a student withdraws from school. A student who ceases attendance after receiving financial aid for the semester may be required to return a portion of the aid previously received.
Please note that due to the schedule of classes in the College of Medicine, most leaves of absence will require a return date of at least one year from the date the leave was granted in order for the student to return to the same semester of class in which they left. Federal educational loan regulations state that when a student borrower ceases to be enrolled at least half-time for 180 days (6 months) in any 12-month period, the borrower will be considered as withdrawn from school for loan repayment purposes. Student borrowers are given a six month grace period on most types of federal loans starting at the date enrollment ceases. During this six month grace period, the student's loans will be treated as if the borrower were still enrolled in school full-time. Once a grace period is used on a specific loan, it will not be given again. At the end of this six month grace period, the student will be required to enter repayment on their federal educational loans until they return to school; however, deferment or forbearance options are available if the student is unable to make loan payments.

UAMS COLLEGE OF MEDICINE TUITION AND FEES REFUND POLICY

Any student who is granted an official leave of absence, officially withdraws, or is dismissed from the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences College of Medicine shall be entitled to a refund of tuition and fees under the following refund policies:

1. College of Medicine Tuition Refund Policy
   When a student ceases enrollment from the College of Medicine, tuition will be refunded on a prorated basis according to the official date of separation (whether withdrawal, dismissal, or leave of absence) until the student has completed 60% of the semester. The percentage of the semester the student did not complete will be the percentage of tuition refunded. Once the student has completed 60% of the semester, no amount of tuition will be refunded.

   This refund policy applies to tuition charges only; it does not apply to fees. No amount of fees will be refunded after the day of registration.

2. Federal Policy for Returning Federal Student Financial Aid
   If a student received federal student aid before withdrawing, being dismissed, or being granted a leave of absence, any tuition refund calculated will be returned to the federal aid programs first.

   Federal regulations mandate that the percentage of the semester the student did not complete will be the percentage of available federal aid the student did not earn. If the student received more federal student aid than they earned, the school, the student, or both must return the unearned funds to the student's lender in a specified order. Once the student has completed 60% of the semester, the student has earned 100% of their aid, and no federal refund is required.

   When a refund is required, the amount of the student's aid that the school is required to return to the student's lender is determined by multiplying the amount of the student's tuition and fees by the percentage of the semester the student did not complete. The amount of the refund will be allocated to the following federal programs in the following order:

   1. Unsubsidized Stafford Loan
   2. Subsidized Stafford Loan
   3. Perkins Loan
   4. Graduate PLUS Loan
   5. Any other type of loan

   The remaining portion of aid that must be returned to the student's lender will be the responsibility of the student. However, federal regulations allow for the student to repay loans under the standard repayment terms of the loan rather than by immediate lump sum payment.

   Once institutional and federal refunds are complete, the student will be required to pay any remaining balance due the school within 30 days.

Impact of Leave of Absence or Withdrawal on Rural Practice Scholarships

Students who have received funding from the Community Match or Rural Practice program before withdrawing or being approved for a leave of absence may be required to return the full amount of Rural Practice funding received for the semester. Those students should consult with the Administrator of the Rural Programs prior to requesting a leave to determine how their funding will be affected.
Types of Financial Aid

Student financial aid is available to all students enrolled in the College of Medicine. Types of assistance available include student loans, scholarships awarded on the basis of scholastic achievement, scholarships awarded on the basis of financial need, scholarships that entail service-connected obligations and federal work study positions (pending the availability of grant funding). The amount of assistance any student receives will never exceed the cost of attendance of the given academic year.

FEDERAL STUDENT LOANS

Federal Stafford Loans: The Stafford Loan Program, administered by the Department of Education, is the primary source of financial aid for students enrolled in the College of Medicine. Stafford loans are issued directly from the Department of Education's Direct Loan Program. This program offers two types of loans:

Subsidized Stafford Loan: The Subsidized Stafford Loan is a need-based loan with a 6.8% fixed interest rate, in which the government pays all interest while the student is enrolled in school. The annual maximum loan amount for the Subsidized Stafford Loan is $8,500.00.

Unsubsidized Stafford Loan: The Unsubsidized Stafford Loan is not based on need. The terms and conditions of the Unsubsidized Stafford Loan are very similar to the Subsidized Stafford Loan, except the government does not subsidize/pay any interest for the student on this loan. The interest is charged to the borrower throughout the life of the loan. The interest rate is fixed at 6.8% for the life of the loan on all loans disbursed on or after July 1, 2006. The annual maximum loan amount varies by the number of months in the academic year, but for students being charged in-state tuition the maximum unsubsidized loan amount per year will equal the cost of attendance minus any other financial aid.

Federal PLUS Loans for Graduate Students: The Graduate PLUS Loan is an additional federal educational loan, typically only used by our students being charged out-of-state tuition, to help cover the difference between the cost of attendance and a student's Stafford loans. Graduate PLUS loans are issued by the Department of Education's Direct Loan Program just as Stafford loans are, but unlike Stafford loans, Graduate PLUS loans require a credit check. The interest rate is fixed at 8.5%.

INSTITUTIONAL LOANS

Primary Care Loan: The Primary Care Loan is regulated by the Department of Health and Human Services and is administered by the school. This loan is designed for students with need who will commit to practicing primary care medicine (family medicine, general internal medicine, general pediatrics, general medicine/pediatrics and preventive medicine). The interest rate is fixed at 5%, but no interest will accrue during medical school or residency training. The income and resources of both the student (and spouse) and the student's parents are used in determining eligibility for the limited funds available under this loan program. Students who accept this loan and later default on their obligation to practice primary care medicine must repay the loan at 7% for all loans disbursed on or after March 23, 2010. (The default rate is 18% for loans disbursed prior to March 23, 2010.)

Loans for Disadvantaged Students: The Department of Health and Human Services also funds the Loans for Disadvantaged Students Program, which offers long-term, 5% low-interest rate loans to students who are determined to have exceptional financial need and who come from a disadvantaged background. The amount of funding available under this program is limited.

Memorial Loan Funds: Loan funds established in the memory of faculty members or by local physicians include: The Jeff Banks Memorial Student Aid Fund, the Oscar O. Fitzhugh Emergency Loan Fund, the Joe L. Hargrove Minority Student Emergency Fund and the Robert Wood Johnson Fund.
SERVICE CONNECTED SCHOLARSHIPS

Arkansas Rural Medical Practice Student Loan and Scholarship Program:
Since the program’s inception in 1949, Arkansas law has provided for the granting of scholarships to medical students willing to commit to practicing full time primary care medicine in a rural community in Arkansas, in the hopes of increasing the number of physicians in rural areas of our state. The program is administered by the Arkansas Rural Medical Practice Student Loan and Scholarship Board. Applicants must be Arkansas residents to participate. New legislation, Act 1058 of 2007, significantly changed the program. However, the new law is not retroactive and does not apply to any Rural Practice or Community Match contracts signed by students or alternates prior to 2007. Act 1058 of 2007 pertains only to new applicants signing initial rural practice contracts subsequent to April 4, 2007.

Rural is defined as “an area reasonably determined by the Arkansas Rural Medical Practice Board to be medically underserved.” Primary Care is defined as Family Medicine, General Internal Medicine, General Pediatrics, General Internal Medicine/Pediatrics, General Obstetrics/Gynecology, General Surgery and Emergency Medicine. However, the law allows participants to pursue a “designated specialty” other than primary care upon Board approval. At the request of the loan recipient, the Board may approve the recipient's request to practice in more than one qualified rural community to meet his or her obligation.

Interested students (and alternates awaiting admission) must be interviewed and approved by the Board. Applicants approved for the Rural Practice Program may receive a maximum of $16,500 per academic year, pending the availability of funds. The assistance given during medical school is considered a loan until the student completes residency training and begins practicing primary care in the rural community of their choice. The loan is then converted to a scholarship/grant on a one-to-one ratio; one year of assistance is forgiven after one year of service. Under this program, the recipient does not have to commit to a specific rural community until the end of his or her residency training.

Special provisions apply to alternates who are on the waiting list for acceptance into medical school who wish to apply for the Rural Practice Program. Interested alternates should contact the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid for additional information.

Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Programs: The Army, Air Force and Navy offer scholarship programs for medical students who are willing to commit to military service. Students interested in a military scholarship should contact an appropriate recruiting officer. Scholarships are competitive and students are advised to apply early (one year in advance of matriculation to medical school). Military scholarships generally cover the cost of tuition, fees, books and equipment, and provide a monthly stipend. Recruiting officers can provide additional details.

National Health Service Corps Scholarship Program: The Department of Health and Human Services administers a scholarship program designed to place primary care physicians in health professions shortage areas. The NHSC Scholarship pays for tuition and fees as well as a monthly stipend (approximately $1,300 for living expenses). There is a two-year minimum service obligation. Contact the NHSC Scholarship Program for more information at http://nhsc.hrsa.gov/scholarship.

INSTITUTIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Students who wish to be considered for an institutional scholarship must submit the College of Medicine Scholarship Application to the Student Financial Aid Office by April 15 for the following academic year.

George Link Ackerman Scholarship: An anonymous donor established a scholarship in 1997 to honor Dr. George Ackerman. Dr. Richard P. Wheeler, Executive Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, College of Medicine, shared the following comments about his mentor and friend: "Dr. George Link Ackerman is a 1954 graduate of the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences College of Medicine. He did his internship at the Philadelphia General Hospital and completed his residency in medicine and took further training in Diabetes and Metabolic Diseases at UAMS. He joined the faculty in 1961 and quickly rose through the academic ranks, caring for patients, teaching and publishing. He has received the 'Golden Apple Award' from students as the outstanding clinical teacher. He has also received the Distinguished Faculty Award from the Medical Alumni Association, the Outstanding Faculty Award from the Medicine Interns and Residents, and the Abernathy Award for Excellence in Internal Medicine from the Arkansas Chapter of the American College of Physicians. He has even had the UAMS yearbook, the Caduceus, dedicated to him. His ability to teach and inspire young physicians is legendary. His secret is his passion for life and learning." Upon learning that a scholarship had been anonymously given to honor Dr. Ackerman, he requested that the name of the scholarship be the Dr. George Link Ackerman Scholarship. According to Ackerman, "George S. Link was a successful small businessman in West Texas in the first half of the century. He married my father's cousin who had been reared in my grandparents' home and was more a foster sister to my father than a cousin. My father and Mr. Link became close friends and I was named for him. Their son, George S. Link, Jr., was a handsome, charming fellow, a Naval Aviator in World War II during my teenage years, and a boyhood idol of mine. He financed my medical education so it pleases me to include the Link name in the formal description of this scholarship." When reflecting on the criteria for the scholarship recipient, Dr. Ackerman stated "I have always been an avid reader and literature is perhaps my chief avocation." Therefore, he would prefer the recipient be a student who has demonstrated a keen interest in literature and/or scholarly approach to his or her studies. The inaugural award was presented in 1997 to Amy Wiedower-Lamb of Guy, Arkansas.

Betsy Ledbetter Askew Scholarship: In December, 2008, partial proceeds from the estate of Betsy Ledbetter Askew, a resident of Jonesboro, Craighead County, were donated to the University of Arkansas Foundation, Inc., to establish a scholarship fund for the benefit of medical students attending the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences College of Medicine. The fund is named "The Betsy Ledbetter Askew Scholarship Fund." The purpose of the fund is to provide scholarships to deserving medical students with preference given to females in need of financial assistance. The inaugural Askew scholarship will be awarded in 2010.

Eddie Ball Memorial Scholarship: The friends and family of E.B. Ball of Eudora, Arkansas, founded a scholarship in memory of Eddie Ball, who was killed in an automobile accident in 1984 during his sophomore year of medical school. The scholarship is awarded annually to a member of the sophomore class who excelled academically during his or her freshman year of medical school and who demonstrates a willingness to serve others. The student must exemplify "diligence in the pursuit of becoming a humane and compassionate physician" in keeping with the wishes of the Ball family. The inaugural award was presented in 1985 to Richard Lochola of Mena.

Barton Foundation Scholarship: The income from an endowment given to the College of Medicine in 1964 by Mrs. T.H. Barton of El Dorado is used to recognize students based on their previous year's academic performance. Barton Scholarships are given each year to rising sophomores, juniors and seniors. In recent years, Barton Scholarships have been awarded to students who completed the prior year of medical school with a 4.0 GPA. The Barton Foundation Scholarships are among the oldest and most prestigious awards offered by the College of Medicine. Since its creation in 1964, approximately 1000 students have received 1.2 million dollars in Barton Foundation Scholarships.

Robert and Dorothy Bowling Scholarship: Robert E. Bowling, Ph.D., established a scholarship fund in 1991 to honor the memory of his wife, Dorothy, and to celebrate his retirement after 34 years as a member of the faculty of the College of Medicine, which included 17 years as Associate Dean for Admissions. Dr. Bowling passed away in 2000. The Bowling scholarship is awarded annually to a rising sophomore who demonstrates academic promise, a desire to serve others, and has financial need. The inaugural award was presented in 1992 to James Kevin Rudder of El Dorado.

Aristo Brizzolara, Sr., Scholarship Fund: Charles M. Brizzolara, M.D., designated funding in his will for the establishment of a loan fund in memory of his uncle, Aristo Brizzolara, Sr., for students of the UAMS College of Medicine. Aristo, who was born in Milan, Italy, moved his family to the United States and made Little Rock their home. Charles lived with his uncle, Aristo, while attending medical school and graduated from the UAMS College of Medicine in 1936. In 2005, heirs of Dr. Brizzolara's estate endorsed the conversion of this loan fund into a scholarship fund.

Harold Braswell Challenge Scholarship: Dr. Harold Braswell graduated from the College of Medicine in 1955. He attended his 35-year reunion in 1990 and enjoyed his alumni weekend so much that he designated the Arkansas Caduceus Club, the College of Medicine alumni organization, as beneficiary of a new insurance policy. Upon his death in 1992, part of his gift was used to endow a scholarship for medical students. The inaugural scholarship was presented in 1995 to Michael Wells of Hensley. The scholarship is awarded annually to an entering freshman student on the basis of academics, character and financial need.
Dr. King David Brown Scholarship: Dr. King David Brown left a substantial part of his estate to be used to provide scholarships for college students at three of the schools he attended: Meharry Medical College, the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff, and the College of Medicine at UAMS. Dr. Brown, whose own background necessitated financial assistance to medical school, established this scholarship for a student, preferably from his hometown of Magnolia, with a demonstrated need for financial assistance. The inaugural award was presented in 1998.

Rita and Robert Homer Bryant Memorial Scholarship: Mrs. Frances Bryant Edens of Corsicana, Texas, established a memorial fund in memory of her parents, Rita and Robert Homer Bryant. Robert, a 1915 College of Medicine graduate, joined the Army during World War I and was stationed in France. His surgical team operated much like a MASH unit. Dr. Bryant was impressed by the successful treatment of physical wounds but distressed by the lack of understanding of mental illness. Thereafter, Dr. Bryant and his wife made psychiatry their life work. Dr. Bryant retired from the Little Rock Medical Division of the Veterans Affairs Regional Office in 1958. The scholarship is awarded annually to an entering first-year student on the basis of remarkable achievement both inside and outside the classroom. The inaugural award was presented in 1988 to Belinda Shirkey of Lonoke at the first scholarship banquet hosted by the College of Medicine.

Buchanan Key Scholarship: The Buchanan Key is among the oldest and most prestigious awards presented by the College of Medicine. According to Anna Buchanan, the late Dr. A. S. Buchanan (known in the family as Dr. Al), Class of 1905, established the Buchanan Keys in 1939 in memory of his brother, Dr. Gilbert Buchanan. One student is selected annually from each class, based on the vote of his/her classmates. After Dr. Buchanan's death in 1953, the award was continued by his daughters, Mrs. Carl Dalrymple and Miss Katherine Buchanan, in honor of their father who practiced nearly 50 years in Prescott, Arkansas. The award consists of an engraved Buchanan Key. Beginning in 1999, the College of Medicine Founders Society voted to provide a $1,000.00 scholarship for each Buchanan Key recipient. In recent years, the Key was replaced with a commemorative plaque. The College of Medicine regards the award as a significant accomplishment because the winners are chosen not only on the basis of superior academic achievement but also by the vote of their classmates.

Class of 1937 Alumni Scholarship: The Class of 1937, a product of the Great Depression, remembered the adversity of its medical-school years and recognized a continuing need to assist students with the costs of a medical education. Fourteen of the original 62 members of the Class of 1937 attended their 50-year Alumni Reunion in 1987 and decided to fund the first scholarship ever presented by an alumni class to the College of Medicine. Dr. J.A. Henry, who was instrumental in establishing the annual scholarship stated: “The chief reason for establishing the scholarship was in recognition of the School of Medicine which has provided for us the opportunity to become doctors. The remembrance of the austerity which characterized and tempered our medical school days no doubt influenced this scholarship. We only hope that any future recipient of this scholarship will feel gratitude and pride in his/her medical school alma mater which has prompted the creation of the Class of 1937 Scholarship.” The scholarship is awarded to an entering first-year student on the basis of outstanding academic achievement and need. This scholarship, along with the Class of 1981 Alumni Scholarship, is recognized as the genesis of the successful alumni scholarship effort spearheaded by Mrs. Janet Honeycutt, past Executive Director of the Arkansas Caduceus Club, and Dr. I. Dodd Wilson, former Dean and now UAMS Chancellor. The inaugural award was presented in 1989 to Alan Newman of Benton.

Class of 1942 Alumni Scholarship: Members of the Class of 1942 returned to Little Rock in 1992 to celebrate the golden anniversary of their graduation from medical school. During this time, they also decided to fund an endowed scholarship for the College of Medicine, and they accomplished their goal in only two years. The inaugural award was presented in 1994 to Chris Gilbert. The Class of 1942 Scholarship is given annually to an upperclassman who has demonstrated superior academic achievement throughout medical school.

Class of 1945 Alumni Scholarship: The Class of 1945 determined at its 45-year reunion in 1990 to establish a scholarship by the time of its 50-year reunion. Class agents campaigned for contributions from their classmates. The class presented its endowment to the College of Medicine during its golden anniversary celebration in 1999. The scholarship is awarded each year to a medical student on the basis of financial need and academic excellence. The inaugural award was presented in 1995 to Peter Ball of Springdale.

He continued to maintain his academic interests while pursuing his career as an excellent clinician. He loved both the intellectual mastery of the medical sciences and the application of that mastery to the relief of human suffering. In addition to publishing numerous articles in his field, Dr. Ellison had a well-developed grasp of all aspects of medicine. He was an extremely gifted technical surgeon and attributed his skill in that area to his emphasis on economy of motion. He was always very energetic, open to new ideas, and attentive to the complaints of patients and suggestions of colleagues. Above and beyond his love of medicine and patient care, he had a wide range of interests. He was an accomplished artist, civic supporter, and an avid golfer—one of the few people ever to score a hole-in-one playing left-handed and later to score one playing right-handed. It is the desire of the Ellison family that this scholarship be provided to medical students who share his passions and ideals. It was Dr. Gray's desire to help young people become better citizens and to help students complete college. He was a Scout leader and received the Silver Beaver award in 1956, the highest award for an adult in scouting. He worked in scouting until age 85. Ryan Gibson Endowed Fund for Excellence in Medical Education: The Ryan Gibson Endowed Fund for Excellence in Medical Education was established in honor and memory of Ryan Gibson, an outstanding medical school applicant accepted for early admission in December 2000 to the Class of 2005. Ryan dreamed of becoming a physician and biomedical researcher but passed away before his classes ever began. The Ryan Gibson Fund will be used to strengthen and enrich medical education through programs that encourage scholarship, innovation and discovery among students and faculty of the College of Medicine. The inaugural award was presented in 2002 to Tracy Kuykendall of Little Rock.

Jack and Ida Byrne Kennedy Scholarship: Dr. Jack W. Kennedy, a physician in Arkadelphia, Arkansas, established this scholarship in 1995 through an endowment. It was Dr. Kennedy's desire to provide funds for the academic enrichment of the Henderson State University pre-medical program and to encourage and support student scholars in their first year of studies at the College of Medicine. Members of the Henderson State University chemistry faculty serve as pre-medical advisers and nominate the Kennedy Scholarship recipients. The inaugural award was presented in 1995 to William McDonnell of Hot Springs. The 2008 recipient was Jerry Digman of Little Rock.

Bruce Lee and Brandon Lee Medical Scholarship: An Arkansas family donated a scholarship endowment to the College of Medicine in memory of the actors Bruce and Brandon Lee. The scholarship is awarded each year to a senior student selected to concentrate a portion of his/her academic studies to developing a dissertation on ethical and human values issues concerning their clinical experience. The donors, who actually became friends with Bruce Lee's widow, were impressed not only by Bruce Lee's screen acting and martial arts skills, but also his depth of knowledge in various academic fields. His studies in philosophy, psychology, literature, physical culture and Asian life have been widely published. Bruce's son, Brandon, followed in his father's footsteps pursuing... academics, martial arts and drama until he was killed in a tragic accident while filming his first starring role in a major feature film. The donating family desires that preference in selection of dissertation projects be given to ethical and human concerns of cancer patients and their families. Students are eligible to apply for this scholarship during their junior year. A review committee selected by the Director of Medical Humanities will choose the recipient. The inaugural scholarship was awarded in 1996 to Kris F. Gillian. Katherine Palm-Cruz of Cabot was the recipient for 2008.

Parents Club Scholarships: The Parents Club of the College of Medicine voted in 1994, under the leadership of Linda DuPuy, Parents Club President 1994-1995, to establish a scholarship fund for medical students. This scholarship is made possible by the fundraising efforts of the parents of students in the College of Medicine, namely, by the proceeds from the Annual Preview Night and Silent Auction at the Arkansas Repertory Theater. Parents Club Scholarships are awarded annually to a senior, junior and sophomore by a vote of their classmates. Each class is asked to select the member of its class who parents their medical student classmates by demonstrating compassion, empathy, integrity, encouragement and character by modeling these characteristics of an ideal physician in interaction with their classmates. The inaugural awards were presented in 1995. In 2001, the Parents Club began awarding four additional scholarships per year to students based on financial need. The inaugural awards were given in 1995 to Ivy McGee Reed of Marion and Nancy Williams of Pine Bluff.
